A40 Princes Highway, Berry

Mananga Homestead

Majestic Mananga Homestead commands a premier position at the entrance to the historical town of Berry and overlooks the farms and hills of the South Coast.

Built in 1894, Mananga Homestead has been sympathetically restored and for many years has run successfully as Bed & Breakfast accommodation, holiday lettings and as a family home. The property also has the potential to be the perfect setting for many types of functions (STCA).

The house is comprised of seven bedrooms, six with ensuite, a country kitchen with a walk-in pantry, formal and informal living areas, separate dining room and an atrium. Features include many aspects of the 1800s era - high ceilings, ornate cornices, hardwood flooring and fireplaces. A wide, wrap around verandah with an undercover entertaining area overlooks water features, the manicured lawns and established gardens. The property also includes the original dairy featuring rustic hand hewn timbers, a silo and horse paddocks.
