51 Prince Alfred Street, Berry

A Masterful Meeting of Classic and Contemporary in the Heart of Berry

What a masterpiece.

At first glance, this home has that quintessential Berry charm befitting its location. It is neat as a pin, stylish and classic.

Step inside however, and you are met with pure magic.

Completely renovated in 2017, this home is a masterful meeting of classic and contemporary. The traditional façade of the original home, with all its beauty and character, is seamlessly combined with a contemporary, architecturally designed rear extension, and the result is unlike anything else in Berry.

This truly is a home created with vision.

The rear extension, made of timber hardwood and metal sheeting, houses the main bedroom, kitchen and living area. An ultra-modern space, it combines silver top ash floor boards, stone benches and black tapware with recycled bricks, glass-louvred windows and crisp white walls. The main bedroom comes complete with a beautiful private ensuite and walk in robe. It overlooks the decking and garden area, where a separate 5th bedroom or office is also located.

Meanwhile the street facing weatherboard section (the original home) has 3 large bedrooms, the laundry and the main bathroom; all completely renovated (right down to the plumbing) while retaining the classic style Berry homes are famous for. Here you will find references to it's original craftsmanship including wall panelling and hanging windows, combined with modern finishing touches that allow the classic and contemporary to combine so seamlessly.

Yet it's not only the home itself that's visionary.

Outside, the driveway, steps and garden edges are all constructed from recycled bricks. There are crushed granite pathways and a custom raised vegetable garden, while the front and rear yards are both practical and polished. A single car garage allows access to the front and rear of the property with ease.

This home – located near the famous Sourdough Bakery and within walking distance of the Berry shops and eateries – is so unique and stunningly beautiful. You will be proud to call it your own.
